Consider Yourself Authorized Personnel !

If you have visited us since Spring, you've seen the sign (not very friendly) which our contractor has erected to keep trucks and machinery from driving too close to the live oak trees. If you have purchased meat this fall and will be coming to the farm, consider yourself Authorized Personnel!

To date, it's more a destruction site than a construction site. The kitchen and the carport will be rebuilt so have been removed – the old kitchen structure will be recycled as a studio, laundry and bath at Cat's house up the road. It's disruptive for us, but exciting for the farm. When the addition is complete, we will have the space to invite you all to a Farm Day celebration. We'll keep you posted!

We are Sold Out of Brookshire Farm Grass Fed 'n Pastured Beef for Fall and are taking reservations for Spring 2011. The Fall Goats are harvested—the next goats are available in January. We appreciate your business and your recommendations to your friends. This fall, 80% of our customers have either purchased from us before or were referred to us by someone who has. We are honored by your confidence in our ability to produce delicious, healthy meats for you and your family and are always working to continue to earn that trust. We could not do what we do without your support! Order

Brookshire Farm has accepted an invitation to present at the 20th Southern Sustainable Agriculture Working Group Conference in Chattanooga. Ben and Cat have written a glowing recommendation for Anne's presentation which you can see at www.ssawg.org/conference-presenters.html

An Old Farmer's Advice:

If you wallow with pigs, expect to get dirty.
